

You are writing a story about a recent learning activity. Use the headings below as a guide.

I learned that I am good at IT.

1. What was the learning about?

The learning was about IT and how much I learned about IT since I started doing the LCA course. It is about all the different things I learned to do with a computer e.g. Things about the internet, things about Microsoft word etc.

2. Is it what you expected or were you surprised by any of it?

No not really I didn't think that there would be that much information on the computer when I first started the course and I didn't think that it would be that easy to pick up. I was very surprised at the amount of headings like excel, FrontPage, PowerPoint ECT. And all of them have different information and are completely different.

3. Did you learn anything new?

Yes I learned something new nearly every day since the start of LCA. In the past year and a half I have learned so much about computers I didn't even think it was possible.

4. Describe the best bits.

I felt that everything I have learned either will or has come in handy for different reasons but the thing that I enjoyed learning most would have been learning about the internet because it is something that I will always use no matter what I do when I leave school where as the other things about Microsoft and all might not be needed at a later date.

5. Which bits did you think were the most important?

I think that the most important bit was learning about the internet. I'm still learning now and I think that it is important because it is something that I can keep with me forever. But as far as the LCA course is concerned I think that the most important thing was learning how to do my work on all the different Microsoft products like PowerPoint ECT because if I wasn't able to use them I would lose a lot of credits.

6. Did you find anything difficult?

Yes at first when I was just starting I would never have thought that I would be able use a computer at the level that I can use a computer today. Even things as simple as typing was hard at first, and when we went onto the other things it took a good while to get my head around it. The Internet was quite simple to grasp and it was the only thing that I got the hang of straight away.

7. Are there things you still find confusing or don't understand?

Yes I'm still learning now and at the moment I always get confused by the Microsoft headings e.g. I might go into excel thinking that it does the things that FrontPage does. Apart from that I don't really find anything confusing and am starting to understand more everyday.

8. If so, what are you going to do about it?

I am just trying to remember which is which. And I am just listening in class and trying to pickup more as the days go on. Hopefully when I am finished school I will know all I need to know about computers and not get confused with anything.

9. What were you disappointed with?

I was disappointed with how slow the internet was for the first year and a half but now its really quick because we got broadband in. I was also disappointed with the way sometimes when there is something you cant do you fall behind or when your absent for a couple of days you have a lot of catch up to do.

10. What will you do differently next time?

If there is a next time I will already know what do to. But if I was to forget all I would really do differently is just try not to miss any days and try not to fall behind.

11. Where and when might this learning come in useful?

Some of it will come in handy more times than others like the internet can be used in every day life. Whereas some of the Microsoft stuff I will probably never use again and if so it will be very seldom that I use them. Unless I get a job that involves using the Microsoft products which is highly unlikely.

12. What didn't you like about the activity?

Some of the work was very hard to do

13. What were your favorite bits?

My favorite bits was finding out about internet.

14. What was the most enjoyable bit?

Again the bit I enjoyed most was using the internet.

Choose these headings because I felt that they are questions that I could answer and also because all the other ones I could think of were already there.
